

Shop With A Hero

Bonneville Student Body officers participated in Shop With a Hero this month. Our Sub for Santa fundraisers help local police officers take local kids to breakfast, shopping and a meet and greet with Santa. Santa flew in on a helicopter and let the reindeer rest this time. SBO's wrapped presents that the kids and their officer had picked out. It was an amazing experience. We want to thank our community for their generous donations to this cause each year.

Christmas Shopping & Santa

This week the staff at Bonneville donated to the Christmas store happening in the Life Skills classes. Look how much was donated to this cause!! Enough to fill THREE 6-ft tables FULL!!! Way to go, Lakers! Because of you and your donation, the students in the life skills classes were able to shop for their family members and surprise them with gifts without their family members knowing. They often don't get the same opportunities at Christmas shops, so this was definitely a treat for them, and one they look forward to each year. The students used the class money they've earned for working hard thus far to "buy" the gifts. After they bought the gifts, they were able to wrap them, put tags on them, and take them home to put under the tree. So many gifts were donated that we were able to have the students also draw names for each other and "shop" for one another. Thank you, Lakers, for helping strengthen the community within the life skills classes at Bonneville!

Amazing Lakers in the news.....

There is a National Chinese EXPO and several Bonneville students' work got selected and entered the final round which is a live event on December 10th via Zoom. This EXPO has more than 4000 participants from the US and Canada. More than 1000 works were submitted.

These students are Daniel Covington, Hannah Mickelsen, Siena Parry, Kayla Linford, Saylee Vasas, and Sienna Barton. Their work includes speeches and presentations about the environment, air pollution, and Chinese philosophy. They did all this work in Chinese.

Besides, one of the Chinese AP students whose name is Sienna Barton and her artwork, Confucious with a Chinese introduction was selected in this EXPO as well.

Congratulations Sadie Beardall makes the National ODP Soccer team!

These last few months Sadie has been trying out first, for the Regional ODP team, traveling to Florida right before Thanksgiving. Playing games against other girls from all over the United States who are trying to make a spot for the National Team. Sadie found out she made the National ODP team and will be traveling to England in March to play games from local international teams in the area. She will also tour a Premier Stadium and will travel all over England for 11 days. Such a wonderful accomplishment for her and a wonderful start for her Collegiate Career with Utah Valley University.

Autos

Bonneville Automotive was recognized at the Dec 7 School Board Meeting

Bonneville Automotive is starting the lesson on Screen Printing, and will soon be teaching all of the other CTSO and clubs the skills needed to make their own shirts

FFA

This month Bonneville ffa had a lot going on. We got to attend our area leadership conference at the granite technical institute in Salt Lake. The students participated in workshops that taught them about leadership and FFA history. The students got to learn about guide dog training, falcon training, decision making, and the importance of FFA in our community.

We also had our Agriscience fair. All the AG Biology students in Ms. Salisbury classes were involved and got to show off their projects that they worked so hard on for weeks. We have 6 students that will be moving onto state to compete with other FFA students from around the state.

Bonneville High Choir

Christmas time and Choirs go hand in hand. We've had such a wonderful time performing this Holiday Season!

We've had over 18 performances this season. They've included six elementary assemblies, two retirement centers, several private parties, our school holiday concert, a cone invitational with our 2 Jr. High Choirs, the district ladies SSAA Honor Choir, Singing at Assembly Hall in Salt Lake and a district "caroling" visit. Here are some pics.
